STATINTL

Chips on a Shoulder

For the O, Brotherrrrr! Dept: Senator J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee (and chief spokesman for New Frontier int'l policies), on June 29th 1961 scolded: "We often hear that the existence of a Communist regime in Cuba is intolerable to the U.S. But is that really the case? I know it is embarrassing and annoying and potentially dangerous, but is it really intolerable? I suppose we would all be less comfortable if the Soviets did install missile bases in Cuba, but I am not sure that our national existence would be in substantially greater danger."

Send more Democrats to Congress???

White House Advisor Brooks Hays (in a speech at Gastonia, N.C. Oct. 21st 1962): "Danger is not imminent in the Cuban situation. Cuba is weak and our attitude must be explained in our need for hemispheric support. I think Khrushchev really has no stake in Cuba."

That's a White House advisor????????

Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey (Minnesota) on the Senate floor, Sept. 11th, 1962 (after admitting the existence of intermediate range missiles in Cuba): "I think it is ridiculous, and insulting to the American people for grown men to wring their hands publicly about Cuba being a threat to the U.S. I do not want the people of my State to lose a night's sleep worrying about the might of Cuba."

R.p. Van Humphrey.

From a Newsletter: "Roy Rubottom (you met him in our column about Castro the other a.m.) told a Senate Internal Security Subcommittee that on the day before Castro's takeover of Cuba, 'there was no evidence of an organized Communist element within the Castro movement or that Castro was under Communist influence'."

This Latin-American expert, you will be irritated to learn, is still on the U.S. payroll!

Arthur Schlesinger, Jr. (who helps JFK run the Gov't) wrote an article called "The Communist Party" for Life mag of July 29th 1946: "A real revolutionary party in this country might be a good thing and, if conditions ever are allowed to develop which make a revolution successful, we deserve to have one."

WOW!!!

From a N.Y. Times editorial: "The U.S. has been engaged in a species of cold war with Cuba for more than three years. During that time we have again and again been caught by surprise through a miscalculation of the strength of the Cuban regime."

Because its "expert" H. L. Matthews (who still writes many of its Latin-American editorials) was Castro's No. 1 back-patter.

Headline: "Reds Have Taken Over In Cuba."

The ventriloquist no longer needs the dummy.

Robert Ruark's revelation: "The temper of our times runs thus: Dr. Alan Nunn May, a convicted traitor, who was sentenced to 10 years for selling atomic secrets in the Klaus Fuchs spy case (just after WW II), is now established in Ghana as a university professor."

Punchline: Ghana gets many millions in U.S. aid. In short, you taxpayers are helping pay that traitor's salary.

Lord Bertrand Russell leader of the anti nuclear bomb crusaders (he got into the act last week appealing to Moscow and Washington not to fight) felt this way in 1948 (before Russia had the Big Bomb): "Anything," he told a group of students, "is better than submission. Either we must have a war against Russia before she has the atomic bomb or we will have to lie down and let them govern us."

Today this philosopher calls Americans warmongers.

From a Chicago foreign news section: "Arab Radio Abuses U.S. America Remains Silent."

U.S. aid to Nasser last year: $250 Million.

TV editor Bob Hall in The L.A. Herald Examiner replied to a subscriber, who inquired, "Why was the movie 'Phff' with Kim Novak and Jack Lemmon called 'Phff' when they say 'Swish' at the end?" Reply: "It was called 'Phff', not 'Phfft'. The title comes from a Whitchellism describing a moker's marriage."

Comes from? Striped from!

Martha L. Gross, discussing new papers and newapeople in a book: "The personnel director of one large daily newspaper said: 'If H. L. Matthews were applied for a job on this paper today, he couldn't get past the personnel office.'"

Ground Mr. Matthews!

Item: "JFK's Advisers Believe In Staying Physically Fit." In the Pink of condition.

From the editorial page of The N.Y. Journal-American: "While our officials try to excuse the failure to act on Cuba, the long arm of Castro reaches into New York to raid the headquarters of anti-Communist exiles. Castro's agents tweaked the nose of Uncle Sam by plastering such slogans as 'Viva Russia' and 'Down with the U.S.' These enemies of the U.S. should be booted out. Why was the police guard that had been placed there withdrawn?"

Votes. And Election Day is so close.

From the papers: "Herman Frederick Marks is a man without a country, one who has lost his U.S. citizenship without becoming a citizen of another country."

He had a long police record in the U.S. before going to Cuba where he was Castro's chief executioner. After breaking with Castro he returned here. Now hold onto your millinery: Although this stateless alien is a criminal killer—he now is free to travel and work in the U.S.... And not only that, he is entitled to the benefits of our liberties... Send that to Robert Kennedy, chief of the Dept. of Justice, and ask him howcum?

New Safety Sticker: "Watch Where You Walk!"

Don't be a stupidestrian.

From a Mississippi editorial: "Gov. Ross Barnett will always be revered in the deep South as one who stood up to U. S. Marrials."

The Commies must be getting a large laff out of watching the Barnetts trying to overthrow our Constitution before they do.

JFK, in an Oct. 13th 1962 blast at Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) who had warned about Moscow's takeover in Cuba for weeks: "These self-appointed generals and admirals ought to be kept home by the voters and replaced by someone who has some understanding of what the 20th Century is all about!"

One week later the Teacher found out what the Pupil knew.
